.....THE 1954 BRIAR PATCH

PUBLISHED ANNUALLY BY THE JUNIOR CLASS OF SWEET BRIAR COLLEGE

FOREWORD

You, Sweet Briar, are constantly moving ahead—as a community and as a college. You, Sweet Briar, are forever changing—yet you are always the same; for it is through change that you are able to remain the same. Progress is written in your charter, in your constitution, in your honor system; is seen in the individuals who make up your student body, your faculty, your alumnae; is felt in your activities and in the enthusiastic response which they both generate and receive. You, Sweet Briar, have recognized the fact that time is ever moving, that it cannot be caught and pinioned. You have realized that you must be active yourself to hold your own place in a dynamic world. And you have proven your knowledge by changing—by altering your external principles in order that your quality, your ideals and your spirit may be maintained and strengthened. To us, the Flapper of the 1954 BRIAR PATCH not only is a reminder of your progress since the Roaring Twenties, Sweet Briar, but also she becomes a symbol of how you have grown and advanced since you were founded in 1906. A generation has passed since she charlestoned through your halls, but as she has matured, so have you. You continue being yourself, Sweet Briar, because you have changed along with her and because you are changing along with us.

DEDICATION

Of all the many elements which combine to make a college, the two most important are the faculty and the students. The freshman classes are remarkably similar—it is the guidance and inspiration of faculty members that does most to change us into individuals during our four years at Sweet Briar. The most rewarding gift a teacher can present to her pupils is a challenge—a challenge to become an individual and to think independently. This challenge has been given to all of us; it has been given with sincerity, with enthusiasm and with spirit by many members of the community. But the Flapper of the 1954 BRIAR PATCH chooses one who, with her inspiring example and her constant offering of the challenge, to us most completely typifies the changing permanence that is Sweet Briar—Miss Dean Hosken, Assistant Professor of Religion.

CLASSES

..... CLASS OF '54

"... And changed it by a miracle into a Senior Class." Yes, it did seem rather miraculous that after four years you could finally sing the traditional song legally as you assumed your newly acquired position atop the Golden Stairs with a dignity calculated to impress the masses down there below. The Senior Parlor became your private domain where you ruled as sovereigns with your after-breakfast coffee. Founders Day ordered all of you to the Monument, at last, bedecked for the first time in your academic robes and mortar boards. When the Hippogriff commanded the Fair to begin, you proved that all that glittered was the Senior Show of 1954. Midwinters brought Sweet Briar out of post-exam depression with a festive deluge of Valentines. The proud possessors of cars returned after Spring vacation to find themselves running a non-profit taxi service between Tommies and the immediate campus before Comprehensive time reared its ugly head. "... Just one month more" before Baccalaureate, Lantern Night, Graduation, ... before the Flapper warmly welcomed you into the ranks of Alumnae.

..... CLASS OF '55

"In the evening by the moonlight you can hear those Juniors singing—." Juniors, yes, recognizable by your position on the Junior Bench; anyway you made up for your lack of vocal talent in other fields. Now, upperclassmen, you eagerly welcomed a new sister class, secretly hoping that the freshmen might be impressed by your new status quo. You turned your interests toward your majors, conscientiously devoting your afternoons to the stern rigors of modern dance as you fought to pass those haunting gym requirements. When the Christmas Bazaar arrived, you proved that, despite the drop in your numbers, you could work as enthusiastically and as efficiently as ever. Then came the Junior Banquet and the ownership of those coveted Sweet Briar symbols of your advancing class position, your rings. When election time rolled around, it was hard to realize that when the ballots read "Senior" they meant you. You were ready to mount the Golden Stairs, and at least SHOUT to the Flapper that you had made those A-plus passes.

"... Every time a freshman sees me sitting on the Sophomore Wall!" And be it ever so crumbling, still it was your wall, something to call your own. Challenging the traditional slump, you came out victorious, proving it by week-night dates plus noticeable absences on the weekends. "Stimulus and response" and "Athenian democracy" became familiar phrases always with quizzes in psych and C.C. As spring approached, you spent your hours working frantically on plans for May Day. Spring step singing brought with it a new excitement as your Q.A.'s were publicly revealed, and then that night, the Bum Chums were tapped in a flurry of hockey shoes and bed spreads. Before you quite realized it, your sophomore year was over and you had reached the half way mark at Sweet Briar. You were no longer just a class but a group of individuals, making new decisions—your majors, or careers, or study abroad. But no matter what you chose, the Flapper was sure that you would carry out your plans in the typical 1956 fashion.

"Where, oh where, are the verdant Freshmen?" This phrase no longer seemed to apply after your first week here in September as Orientation big sisters taught you the hows and whys of Sweet Briar life. Handbook classes became a steady routine with a confusion of rules and the necessity of learning the differences between the three types of date slips. The election of your own class officers brought a new excitement. You went through the Hanging of the Green and the early morning Christmas caroling in a frozen daze, dreaming of vacation. Then exams loomed ahead, and you spent hours frantically discussing social studies and zoo; the Freshman Honors list belied the rumor that all you ever did was play bridge in Commons. There was your issue of the News published before you knew it, as well as a terrific Freshman Show written and produced. Spring fever arrived with the desire for glamorous suntans by May Day. 1957 had surpassed any expectations, and the Flapper was watching with a keen interest to see what you would do in the coming three years.

Each student at Sweet Briar is a member of the Student Government Association and receives from this membership manifold privileges and responsibilities. She receives academic and social freedom when she agrees, by signing the honor pledge, to make the highest ideals of honor prevail at Sweet Briar.

This dynamic Association was begun in 1906 and exercises its powers in three capacities: legislative, executive, and judicial. The legislative powers are vested in the Association as a whole which has jurisdiction over all regulations falling within the student sphere of authority. The executive powers are vested in the Executive Council which makes and interprets rules, conducts polls and elections, and coordinates campus activities. The judicial powers are vested in the Judicial Board and the Inter-Dormitory Council which safeguards the honor system on which the Association is based. Both the Executive Council and the Judicial Board meet with College Council, which brings together the faculty and the students.

This year the Student Government Association has emphasized the overall spirit of the Association practically applied through the regulations. We have tried always to teach the reasons behind the rules as well as the rules themselves, for we have found that the success of the Association depends not on the details but on the spirit of these details which, in essence, is the spirit of Sweet Briar.

THE CABINET

COMMISSION HEADS

Scott, S., Chobot, Smith, E.,
Marbury.

The Sweet Briar YWCA seeks to make possible to everyone in every phase of college life, the realization of a full and creative life, through a growing knowledge of God. The "Y" Cabinet is in charge of the many and varied activities in the program.

An incoming Freshman is given a warm welcome by the Orientation Committee, and is helped to feel at home by her "Big Sister" throughout the year. The Orientation members are always on hand to give advice and generate school spirit in every way possible among the Freshman Class. Parties and the personal touch are key ways in which Orientation operates.

Each class adopts an underprivileged school in Amherst County where extra help is needed. Sweet Briar girls go to the schools every week to participate in songs, dances, games, crafts, and parties which are the activities of these projects.

Sunday evening Vespers and Thursday morning Meditations, which are led by students, are favorite parts of the "Y" program.

Once a month, the four Commissions, Christian Faith and Heritage, Personal Growth, Social Responsibility and World Relatedness, meet separately to discuss problems relating to their particular fields, thus providing the opportunity to discuss vital topics in these four areas, from the Christian point of view.

By contacting the "Y's" in other colleges and universities, the foreign students met with foreign students from neighboring schools, and entertained them at a supper party in the "Date House."

Religious Emphasis Week was a very meaningful experience in Christian growth for the entire community. Two visiting speakers, daily chapels, informal discussions, and personal conferences gave us an opportunity to discuss and develop our Christian convictions.

Conferences throughout the year relate the Sweet Briar "Y" to student "Y's" on other campuses.

ORIENTATION COMMITTEE

First Row: Pfeiffer, Irvin, Wolfe, Meade, Maxwell, Lotterhos, Salisbury, Montgomery, Robinson, Pannell.

Fourth Row: Brock, Gilbert, Black, Greer, Davis, N. Thornton, Geer, Applequist, Bernhard, Echols, Breckenridge, Guggenheimer, Howe.

Q. V.

The Q. V.'s are members of the sophomore class, elected by secret ballot by their class in the fall. They encourage enthusiasm in all phases of college life so that each girl in the sophomore class will look forward to her remaining years here. They also try to make each girl aware of her sense of responsibility and participation in all class activities which will be reflected in her remaining years at Sweet Briar.

First Row: Smith, E., Trimmer, Edens, Clay, M., Sharp.

Second Row: Gilbert, Turner, Wolfe, Pannell, Hartman, Applequist, Chang.

Godfrey, Tucker, Maybank, West, Marbury, Jeffers, Space, Garforth, President; Cage, Sutliff.

BUM CHUMS

"Hallelujah, I'm a Bum!" introduces the notorious ten, bedecked with bedspreads and hockey shoes—armed with energy and ingenious ideas, and of course with smiles on their faces. They put on their famed Holiday Inns at Christmas and in the Spring, and by mixing fun and fiscal profits, they prove that philanthropy need not be solemn. They take part in the Amherst March of Dimes and sponsor the Bloodmobile; they have charge of the Coke concession, and they also support one charitable project each year.

TAU PHI

Tau Phi is an upper class honorary society organized for the purpose of upholding the principle of a liberal arts education and the broadening of the mind by contact with the many fields of human knowledge. Because the members of Tau Phi believe that the stimulation that comes with learning is more fully meaningful through sharing, the club endeavors to bring interesting and controversial questions to the college in faculty-student discussions, to rouse interest in the various lectures and concerts throughout the year, and to further an active interest in the ideals and traditions of Sweet Briar.

First Row: Johnson, M. D., Lane, Keating, President; Reese, Smith, H. M.

Second Row: Nelson, J., Green, E., Chamberlain, Aubrey, Gammon, Croyder,

Third Row: Collins, Plamp, B., Frye, McGinnis, Scott, S.

Mohlman, Jeffers, Inge, Couston, Space, Booth, Douthat, Ellis, Stoddart, Van Tassel, President; Rahmer, Ogilvie, Hobbs.

CHUNG MUNG

The thirteen ghostly figures who plague the Tau Phi's, trying to invade their banquet after their tapping at Fall Step Singing, find many other uses for their energies throughout the year. This group of Juniors and Seniors, chosen on the basis of their enthusiasm and school spirit, try to carry over these qualities into their various undertakings on campus, such as sponsoring an auction in the Fall for the Funds Drive and collecting clothes for the needy in Europe. They present their candidate for May Queen at the fashion show in the Spring, and at May Day they expend their energies in their traditional softball game with the Tau Phi's.

PAINT AND PATCHES

First Row: Carlton, Bumbaugh, Beard, McLamb, Williams, A.

Second Row: Feltus, Sutliff, Simpson, Dabney, President; Manning, Keating, Roos.

Third Row: Davidson, Seward, Sheffield, Merriman, Freeman, Hay, Chamberlain, Crater, Stoddard, Chamberlin.

"Shakespeare, Shaw, and Barrie . . ." and more come within the scope of Paint and Patches' dramatic talents. Although Shaw and Barrie did not appear in the 1953-1954 season, The Innocents in the Fall, Shakespeare's Twelfth Night at Christmas, and High Ground in the Spring were added to their varied achievements. This season's success was due both to Dr. Freeman's guiding hand and to the enthusiasm and wonderful spirit of cooperation that is typically P & P. From a spiral staircase, to the Globe Theatre, to thirty-second scene changes; from sixteenth century to twentieth century costumes; from ghost to convict—all bear up under the banging of hammers and the smell of wet scenery paint. All witness the final conversion of a potential actress into a rising star after weeks of rehearsing and re-rehearsing. Then, all fluffed lines, lost props and hasty tempers are forgotten in the magic of Opening Night.

AINTS AND ASSES

First Row: Jones, Anson, Vorys.

Second Row: Ewart, Bowns, Noble, Marbury, Thomas, Green, E., Chase, Jackson, McClay, Brock, Coxe, Ogilvie, Stockton.

Third Row: Plamp, L., Smith, B. B., The Illustrious One; Van Tassel.

"There's a long, long tail a-hanging, and it is inky and black . . ."—a familiar refrain heard throughout the school year whenever the Aints and Asses cavort together. Their ultimate purpose being to keep morale high, the club satirizes any and all phases of community life—from the faculty in the Sweat Brow Blues to the intellectual Dramatic Club—even the May Court and the Freshman Fashion Show are not overlooked in their buffoonery. Unfettered as they are by any conventions of propriety or subtlety, their productions can at least always be called original. Not only does this merry clan of twenty-one lend a comic leitmotif to the stern rigors of academic life, but in the Spring they strive to keep wandering souls off the new-born grass so that it will be alive and green for May Day. Neither brains, beauty nor ability to lead is the criterion but rather a sparkling wit and glowing sense of humor are requisites because it was for their "poisonability that they was picked . . ."

GLEE CLUB

Adventures into the realm of choral music are open to all those students whose talent and enthusiasm make them eligible for membership in the Glee Club. Their instruction in group singing is received weekly throughout the year and includes a wide variety of music. The climax of this year's work was a joint concert with the Men's Glee Club of Trinity College. The popularity of the club is well shown by the representation of the students from all classes.

First Row: Grafmuller, Engh, McGrath, Conway, Brother, Scott, M., Pehl, Tetzlaff, Armstrong, Ellisor, McClay, Robb, President; Edwards, Hughes, Voorhees, Simpson, Wimerich, Steves, Haskell, Churbuck.

Second Row: Blanton, Kindred, McBurney, Wilson, M. A., Collis, Altsheier, Learnard, Ulrici, Gualtieri, Fiducia, Potter, J., Ellis, Sinclair, Black, B., Bennett, Gill, Wallace, A., Morton, Heur.

Third Row: Scott, C., Register, Timberlake, Finch, Shaw, Major, Whittier, Rogers, E. F., Wight, Irvin, Hedlund, Oberlin, Street, Shelton, Garvey, Smythe, Nelson, C., Stevens, B., Bundy, Howe, Anderson.

Fourth Row: Bradley, Fink, Potteiger, Eiser, Geer, Hartman, Trimmer, Chao, Bowdle, Maxwell, Chang, Russell, E., Trumbore, Smith, H. H., Medert, Hiester.

First Row: Engh, Aubrey, Paxton, Frye, Scott, M., Westfall, Mills, Oram.

Second Row: Sheffield, Applequist, Johnson, S., Grafmuller, Lipscomb, Pehl, Stevens, S. M., Sinclair.

Third Row: Trent, Bowns, St. Clair, Walsh, Morris, Caldwell, Carlton, Head; Wilson, B.

CHOIR

The Sweet Briar Choir serves the community through its participation in the Sunday church services. The membership is limited by an audition by which those voices are selected which have had previous musical training. This year the choir performed with the University of Virginia Glee Club and combined with the Sweet Briar Glee Club for a joint concert with Trinity. Contemporary religious music was introduced both in the candlelight Christmas service and in the outside concerts.

PHI BETA KAPPA

This year marks the fifth anniversary of the founding of the Sweet Briar Phi Beta Kappa Chapter. Election to membership is based on excellent academic record and on evidence of broad cultural interests, scholarly achievement, and promise of intellectual growth. The number of Seniors elected rarely exceeds 10% of the class, and election of Juniors is the exception rather than the rule.

Andrews, Van Peenen, Brooke, Chamblin, Smith, H. M. Chamberlain.

First Row: Rahmer, McGinnis, Garforth, Roberts.

Second Row: West, Marbury, Brown, D., Smith, B. B., Inge, Chairman; Mathews, Walker, Maybank, Booth.

Third Row: Coxe, Wolfe, Applequist, Van Tassel, Anson.

SOCIAL COMMITTEE

When you feel a slight tap on the shoulder and hear those familiar words, "It's time to say good night," then you know the Social Committee is on the job. To bid your dates good night and send them happily on their way, is only one of the duties of the Social Committee. As guardians of what the "well dressed Sweet Briar girl" should wear, they keep an eagle eye out for all girls who are not living up to the Sweet Briar standards. These active lasses also arrange entertainment for Saturday nights and act as the floor committee for all Sweet Briar dances. All of their work is done in connection with the Dean's office and with Exec.

*First Row: Rahmer, Noble, Walker, Chairman; Edwards, Roos, Voorhees.

CURRICULUM COMMITTEE

The Curriculum Committee is an organization formed to represent the students and to be an intermediary between the faculty and the students on matters concerning curricular questions. Its function is to study problems of the curriculum and to act as a fact-finding board as well as a committee for exchange of constructive ideas and suggestions between faculty and students. Members of the Curriculum Committee are responsible for giving valid answers to questions which arise concerning the methods of instruction at Sweet Briar.

WORLD AFFAIRS CLUB

In 1951, the World Affairs Club was evolved through the merger of the International Relations and the Political Economy Clubs. The purpose of this club is to further understanding of world problems by providing opportunities for discussion, among the members and with outstanding lecturers and guests, of those political and economic problems which relate to international questions. To stimulate student interest, a bulletin board is maintained for news articles, and many meetings are open to the community.

First Row: Lindsey, Smith, P., Kells, Fankhauser, President; White, Lane, C.

Second Row: Russell, A., Denton, Maxwell, Ulrici, Westfall, Johnson, Diane, Wilson, E., Russell, J.

*First Row: Button, Engh, McGrath, Anderson, Moore, K. D., White, Mendo, Robinson, Meyer, Thompson, Bannish, Wallace, A., Montgomery, Stevens, B., Compton, Hunter, Space, Gill, Smith, M. L.
Second Row: Heuer, Brothers, Kells, Smith, P., Chase, Linberger, Hay, President; Smith, H., Candler, O., Fiducia, Tucker, Heleman, Plamp, E., Andrews.

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club, though newly formed, has taken an active role in Sweet Briar activities. Its varied interests cover a wide area of issues dealing not only with subjects pertinent to college life but also with those concerning United States' policies and international affairs. This year the club was privileged to hear programs presented at Sweet Briar by the University of Virginia and Hampton-Sidney College. The Sweet Briar debate team went to Charlottesville to attend the Virginia "Debate Workshop"; there they learned much about the national topic and about the finer points of debating procedure.

PERSONNEL COMMITTEE

The Personnel and Vocational Guidance Committee is a small group of students and faculty which helps the students at Sweet Briar to find permanent or summer jobs. Encouraging further study, the Committee arranges a panel on graduate work as well as on various occupational fields. Outside speakers and alumnae are often brought to campus to give valuable information to the students, and a vast file of graduate school and job literature is maintained.

*First Row: Jones, Smith, P., Watts, Chairman; Hetley.
Second Row: Meyer, Kennedy, Smith, K., Montgomery, Jeffers.*

Applequist, Williams, C., Van Tassel, Mathews, Chairman; Hedeman, Seward, Andrews.

CAMPUS CHEST COMMITTEE

For the past few years it has been the policy at Sweet Briar to sponsor one large consolidated funds drive conducted by the Campus Chest Committee; the money raised is then allocated by the Committee. Each year through this drive the community brings over two foreign students and contributes to local, national, and international organizations. Thus the Funds Drive enables us to give to all worthy causes at one time and, through the allocations made by the Campus Chest Committee, a helping hand can be extended where it is most needed.

AUDITORIUM FUNDS COMMITTEE

A new auditorium, large enough for all, and comfortable enough to eliminate the need of pillows, is the center of every Sweet Briar dream. Odd jobs and ingenious schemes for money making are the order of the day. Blazers are in fashion, the steak dinner is a major event, the faculty and Paint and Patches donate money from their shows. The Auditorium Committee organizes and coordinates the work of the community toward this goal.

*First Row: Blanton, Hunter, Bennett, Bell, Ellis, Chairman; Godfrey, Robinson, Chobot.

ENGLISH CLUB

The Senior and Junior English and Drama majors join in regular monthly meetings to further their appreciation of great literature beyond the limitations of the classroom. The scope of the English Club extends to provide enjoyment for the entire college community with movies and lectures several times a year. Through the active participation of the faculty, English Club meetings serve to strengthen faculty-student relationships.

First Row: Francis, Potteiger, Morris, Hodges, Parker, J., Morrissey.

Second Row: Bernard, Clapp, Oberlin, Bumbaugh, President: Allen, Williams, A., Maury, Bannish.

Third Row: Smith, H. M., Joyner, Johnson, D., Gill, Voorhees, Potter, J., Ewart, Roos, Crater, Feltus.

CLASSICAL CLUB

At the monthly meetings of the Classical Club Greek and Latin students participate in programs in classical literature and culture. Proudly the torch of the ancient past is upheld by this club as a fresh breath of life is breathed into the tales and achievements of yesteryears and Roman and Greek civilizations live again.

First Row: Dunn, Smith, H. H., Huffaker, President: Chobot, McClay.

Second Row: Thornton, Dickson, Elser, Turner, H., Rogers, P., Isdale, Fiducia, Wilson, B., Kimball.

First Row: Cavallo, Adelson, Brandes.

Third Row: Bennett, President: Telfer, Underwood, Alden, Howe, Smith, H. M.

SOCIOLOGY CLUB

The Sociology Club gives students an opportunity to exchange ideas and to hear speakers concerning problems of today's society not covered in class. Membership is not restricted to Sociology majors if a girl has had six hours in the Sociology Department. Meetings are usually open to all students and aim at increasing the scope of students' knowledge of today's society.

LE CERCLE FRANCAIS

Anyone interested in finding the "esprit français" is to be found in this club, where a vicarious stimulus of another way of life is gained through discussions of the French people, their mode of life, and their ideas. Through movies, songs, lectures—formal and otherwise—members become acquainted with the imagination and vitality that is France.

First Row: Hunter, Brown, A., Smith, E., Bowns, Underwood, Anson, Campbell.
Second Row: Cornwall, Walsh, Willis, Manning, President; Clay, Stevens, B., Caldwell.
Third Row: Smith, M. L., Thornton, Hailey, Candler, D., Herndon, Cowen, Herring, Brown, P., Davis, N., Kennedy, Liebert, Smith, K., McGarth, Ewart, Lotterhus, Breckenridge, Wachenfeld, Smith, P., Fisch, Howe.

Third Row: Watts, Ryan, McGrath, Simpson, Denny, Folmar, Oberlin, Godfrey, Fiducia, Telfer, Herndon, Johnson, Diane.

EL CLUB ESPANOL

"Se habla español, aquí." Not only do they speak Spanish, but they extend their appreciation of the culture to Mexican food by preparing a Mexican meal each year. They try to stimulate interest in foreign travel by sponsoring color films of Latin American countries. Each week, they practice Spanish by assembling at the Spanish table in the refectory. The Spanish Club co-operates with the other language clubs in a sincere attempt to understand and appreciate countries different from our own.

First Row: Frye, Huffaker, Anson, President; Talburt, Russell, A.
Second Row: Guggenheimer, Heister, Streit, Darnall.

DER DEUTSCHE VEREIN

In German Club meetings, there is a chance to gain from the Continental atmosphere as the members share in discussions of the politics, traditions and general background of the country. Besides the regular business meetings, there are program meetings open to the whole community at which guest speakers lecture on certain phases of German civilization and culture of interest to all. Conversation with various faculty members at dinner rounds out the club's activities.

*First Row: Aubrey, Johnson, Dallis, Bowns, President; Frye.
Second Row: Carlton, Collins, Stoddart, Ogilvie, Hodges.*

SWEET TONES

"Like Topsy, they just grew"—and this is the best explanation of the Sweet Tones' arrival on campus. These notorious nine got together because they loved to sing; and because of the enthusiastic response from everyone who heard them, they have been singing ever since. Arranging many of their songs themselves, the Sweet Tones' repertoire includes everything from nursery-rhymes to academic ditties. They have sung at Sweet Briar functions and even on television. Broadway is undoubtedly the next stop, and then we can say we knew them when!

FRIENDS OF ART

Friends of Art is one of the largest organizations on the Sweet Briar campus. This club fosters art by sending the Sweet Briar collection to the Lynchburg exhibition. It brings art to everyone by the showing of the "picture of the week" in Academic. Also, exhibitions and speakers are brought to the campus for the enjoyment of the entire community.

First Row: Hunt, Broman, Gill, Montgomery, Salisbury, Lotterhos, Teller, Jacobson.

Second Row: Potteiger, Isdale, Robb, Croker, President; Candler, Morrissey, Johnson, Diane, Dickinson.

Third Row: Lineberger, Hughes, Oram, Joyner, Sheffield, Ewart, Stevens, B., Sinclair, Smith, H., Buxton, Greer, Gilbert.

THE MUSIC CLUB

The Sweet Briar Music Club is an organization which functions primarily for music-lovers. Its members meet once a month to discuss business affairs, listen to records, or hear students perform either instrumentally or vocally. The club also sponsors various affairs during the year and often secures films to be shown for the benefit of the Sweet Briar Community.

First Row: Robinson, Isdale, Francis, Lindsey, Streit, McClay, Taylor, C. Montgomery.

Second Row: Hughes, Crowley, Maury, Hetley, Business Manager; Andrews, Editor; Gammmon, Bernard, Fiducia.

Third Row: Reese, Smith, K., Herring, Edens, Simpson, Urner, Irvin, Hartman, Mathews, Ellis, Potter, Street, Meyer, Rhodes, Kennedy, Steinhardt, Lane.

The Sweet Briar News

"The News tells all!" That is the motto of the Sweet Briar News, and as it goes to press each week the staff keeps it well in mind, for the goal of the paper is to bring the events and life on campus to everyone—students, faculty, parents, alumnae and friends of the college. The staff attempts to enhance community life by acquainting everyone of whatever happens and providing a universal interest in the many projects which are planned for Sweet Briar.

By now the schedule of the staff's putting the paper "to bed" is familiar to almost everyone. Assignments go out Tuesday, and by Sunday night the reporters have written their stories to be approved by the editorial board and typed for the press. On Monday the galleys come back, and the proofreaders and headliners get to work while the paper is put in its final form. And the effort is worth it when the paper is delivered on Wednesday—a job well done.

THE BRAMBLER

The best student contributions of prose, poetry, art, and photography are published four times each year in The Brambler, Sweet Briar's literary magazine. The four staffs, literary, art, business and advertising, offer experience in all phases of magazine publication. Staff members are chosen for their interest and contributions to the publication of the magazine. The Brambler has a wide circulation both in the Sweet Briar community and among parents and alumnae.

Van Tassel, Business Manager; Noble, Editor.

THE HANDBOOK AND KEY

The Students Handbook is a manual of social and academic rulings, serving to familiarize us with Sweet Briar's organizations and activities.

The Key is an informal presentation for incoming freshmen which gives them a glimpse of the lighter side of college life.

THE BRIAR PATCH

Contracts with the printer and the engraver, the securing of a good photographer, and long lists on Gray bulletin board for the scheduling of individual pictures marked the beginning of the work on the BRIAR PATCH late in September. "But I have to get an informal shot of you for the yearbook" became a familiar phrase in Carson and Gray as each senior was approached. Literary assignments and write-ups were finally finished to meet the deadline, after long hours of typing and proof-reading. The dummy began to take shape and each member of the staff at last began to see where her work had contributed to the whole. Final proofs arrived and suddenly it was May and the finished product was being distributed with the Flapper smiling her approval at everyone.

First Row: Oberlin, Senior Write-ups Editor; Sutliff, Photographer; Merriman, Business Manager; Lindsey, Editor; McLamb, Art Editor; Tucker, Sports Editor.

ATHLETICS

Tucker, Treasurer; Reese, President; Campbell, R., Secretary.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION

Sweet Briar is ideally situated and equipped for an active outdoor life. Every student is entitled to all the privileges and opportunities which the Athletic Association provides, for upon entering she automatically becomes a member of the Association. Outside there are two hockey fields, one lacrosse field, five tennis courts, an archery range, and a riding ring. The gymnasium provides opportunity for numerous indoor sports—modern dance in our special studio, basketball, volleyball, badminton, ping pong, and squash. The school year is divided into three seasons with special sports given each season—hockey, lacrosse and archery in the fall; basketball and other indoor games during the winter; tennis and lacrosse in the spring. Riding and modern dance are given all year.

The cabin provides wonderful opportunity for those with the real camping spirit. It is a pleasant hike to the cabin and here you can spend the night on double-deck bunks, cooking your own meals, with songs and roasted marshmallows before bed.

The lake is popular all year, but especially during the spring. When the sun warms the countryside, all thoughts turn toward the lake where there is sun bathing, swimming, boating and canoeing. At Lake Day there are special competitions in these activities plus novelty races—the points are added and the winning class becomes the champion for that year.

In recognition of good work, enthusiasm, and sportsmanship, awards are given by the Athletic Association Executive Committee at the end of the year. These awards include seals, medals, and white blazers.

HOCKEY

First Row: Campbell, R., Head.

Second Row: Smith, K., Ames, King, Trimmer, Hartman, Smythe, Roberts, Carroll, Ballard, Scott, M. N., Bowdle, Duffield, Thornton.

Third Row: Tucker, Finch, Willis, Reese, Hinshaw, Croyder, Lenz, Wachenfeld, Compton, Kindred, Harjes, Garforth.

There is much enthusiasm for field hockey here at Sweet Briar. Besides the regular gym class, there is an active and eager varsity hockey team which plays various other colleges in Virginia. The varsity also competes in the Virginia State Hockey Tournament, and several of our members have been on the Southeast Team.

RIDING COUNCIL

Sweet Briar riders have been kept busy by numerous and varied activities, including several horse shows, the hunts, and the Riding Clinic with Captain Littauer, plus daily riding and schooling. Besides the competent supervision of Miss Rogers and Miss Ratcliff, the riders were especially fortunate to have the expert assistance of Mr. Clayton Bailey.

Prescott, Williams, C., Lindsey, Wachenfeld, Head; Black, Briggs, Francis, Isdale, Sharp, Harjes, Stevens, A., Rhodes, Koonz.

BASKETBALL

Second Row: Finch, Tetzlaff, Joyner, Reese, Ballard, Bundy, Duncan, Chao, Broman, Lenz, Ritter.*

With a lot of second and third year team members backed up by plenty of freshmen talent, the basketball varsity got off to a good start with new uniforms adding to the team's morale and appearance. Games were scheduled with Lynchburg College, Roanoke College, William and Mary, Hollins, and Westhampton. Besides the varsity games, highlights of the season were the class tournament and basketball clinic held during the winter.

TENNIS

As soon as the frost is out of the ground all the tyro and varsity tennis players start for the courts to sharpen up their game for the interclass and intercollegiate matches.

The varsity plays matches against William and Mary, Westhampton, and Hollins. When at Hollins the team-members are guests of The Homestead at Hot Springs, Virginia, and this is one of the highlights of the season. Tennis is one of the most graceful of the competitive sports and beginners and experts alike have the advantage of excellent coaching.

Hailey, Aubrey, Smith, P., Thompson, Oram, Coxe, Willis, Fackiner, Garforth, Head; Davis, N., Finch.

DANCE

*First Row: Rogers, E., St. Clair, Taylor, C., Wilson, Ann, Weed, Boyd.
Second Row: Newton, McBurney, Jackson, Greer, Phelps, P., Fisch, Shannonhouse.*

There is a place at Sweet Briar for many dance interests: Ballet, modern dance, native or foreign dance and notation. Just look in the Dance Clubs, which include Tanz Zirkel, Dance Group, and Choreography. Each denotes a different degree of advanced technique and active interest. The 1953-1954 schedule included a Fall Recital by José Limón, and a Winter Demonstration, a Spring Recital, and the choreography for the May Day program by the Dance Clubs.

LACROSSE

One of the most energetic competitive sports is the fast and furious game of lacrosse. The varsity squad, most of whom have never played before, soon become seasoned veterans when playing outside teams. Surprisingly enough they often win but win or lose the games are always thrilling.

*First Row: Phelps, P., Parrish, Campbell, Ames, Talburt, McGuire, Croyder, Carroll, Lenz, Kindred, Ballard.

LAKE

Come the first sunny spring day and the Boathouse is filled with eager sunbathers and swimmers. The Boathouse maintains its popularity the whole year, however, with its fireplace and comfortable atmosphere — truly a wonderful place for fun and relaxation.

CABIN

Hiking can be more than just walking, especially if the Cabin is the end of the journey. There you can have sizzling steaks over a glowing fire and warm bunks to consume your weariness.

SOFTBALL

"When there's darkness in the west dell and the moon begins to shine," you'll find baseball enthusiasts. Time is of no consequence when sportsmanship and spirit combine with a baseball and bat.

ARCHERY

Again this fall the bows were waxed and arrows counted in preparation for a big season for archery enthusiasts. Optional archery and the final class tournament provided entertainment for amateurs and robin hoods alike.

GAMES

Ping-pong, squash, badminton, volleyball, anyone? Regular classes are offered in these sports during the winter season and any time during the year the facilities are available for fun and relaxation — and are used by students and faculty alike.
